Rewards to GO!

This is a program designed to reward our loyal customers for their Call In and To Go business. Membership to the program is FREE! Each time a member of the REWARDS TO GO program places an order for Take Out the dollars spent are translated into points. These points accumulate and are converted to Condors. For every $1 you spend on take out food or retail items you earn 1 point.

Once you accumulate 200 points you will earn $20.00 in Condors.. our own special kind of personalized house cash. There will be bonus days where you will earn Double Points! Every Wednesday will be double point day! Ask your server for details! We appreciate your business and this is one of the ways that we say "Thank You".

Beer Spotlight: Royal Oak

Also saved from extinction by Phoenix, this is a pale ale of noble character in the grand tradition of British country brewing. Classically deep amber and fragrant with hop aroma, it is rounded and soft on the palate, with a balanced complexity of soft fruit and hop character and bitterness. Brewed to the original 1896 style with one notable exception- it is now a true bottle-conditioned ale, alive in the bottle, for maximum flavor and authenticity.

Cooking With Beer

Brussel Sprouts With Beer Recipe

Ingredients

- 2 lb brussel sprouts
- 4 oz bacon
- 2 garlic cloves, chopped
- 1/2 cup ale

Directions

Trim brussel sprouts of limp leaves, then cut an 'X' in the base of each stalk. Bring a large pan of water to a boil, add sprouts and back back to a boil. Boil 1 minute, then drain and run cold water over until cool. Cut sprouts in half.

In separate skillet, saute bacon 3 minutes. Add garlic and saute til bacon is crisp. Add sprouts and saute til warmed through. Pour in beer and bring to a boil. Simmer till sprouts are crisp-tender, about 3 minutes. Season with salt and pepper.

Place in gratin dish and reheat, covered at 350F for 10 minutes or till hot. Or leave in skillet and reheat in it.

Industry News

Germans invent pork, sauerkraut and beer diet

A Berlin chef has developed a German version of the Atkins diet - based on pork knuckles, sauerkraut and beer. At the heart of the plan is the Schweinshaxe, a massive knuckle of pork that comes from traditional Bavarian style of cooking.

It is usually served with dumplings and sauerkraut or, in some regions, red cabbage. Haxe is traditionally associated with big-bellied Bavarian men but chef Gero Winiarski says the dish can actually help people shed pounds. Similarly to the low-carb Atkins diet, he says guests at his restaurant are told to ditch the dumplings so they can have the meal with a clear conscience. Winiarski also claims to have developed a special way of roasting the knuckle that takes almost all of the fat out of it.

"My colleague David lost eleven kilos," he told the Berliner Kurier. Guests at the restaurant can get the diet pork knuckle for around £10, including a generous helping of sauerkraut and half a litre of famous German Starkbier beer.

The Beer Connoisseur

Sam Adams Chocolate Bock

Berger Chocolate to develop their newest innovation, Samuel Adams(r) Chocolate Bock. Tett nang Tett nanger and Spalt hops were hand-selected from the world's oldest growing area and combined with a complex selection of malts including two row Pale, Munich and caramel to create a rich and satisfying brew. This dark beer has a big, malty character that is combined with the subtle sweetness of chocolate. The chocolatiers at Scharffen Berger crafted an exclusive blend of chocolate for Samuel Adams(r) made with cocoa beans from Ghana called forastero. Samuel Adams(r) Chocolate Bock was aged on a bed of this chocolate to create its unique layers of flavor. As the beer matured, the fruity, tart, earthy and chocolate aromas were infused into the liquid to give the brew a complex, full-bodied taste with a velvety finish. A hint of vanilla was added to meld the symphony of flavors together.

Did you know?

Vikings used the skulls of their enemies as drinking vessels.

Chicha, an alcohol beverage which has been made for thousands of years in Central and South America, begins with people chewing grain and spitting into a vat. An enzyme in saliva changes starch in the grain to sugar, which then ferments.

William Sokolin paid $519,750.00 for a bottle of 1787 vintage wine which supposedly had been owned by Thomas Jefferson, then later accidentally knocked it over, breaking it and spilling the precious contents on the floor.
