A View from the Summit

Brooklyn Beer Dinner

Kevin - Manager - Sandy Springs

February 7, 2005 was a historic day in Summit Wayside Tavern's history. Not only did we host an unparalleled beer dinner presided by world renowned brew master, Garret Oliver, but Summit's actually closed all three locations so guests and employees alike could share in the great food and libations.

The food menu was created and executed by local chefs Tyler Westbrook and Brent Banda of the Food Studio and consisted of nine different food items paired with nine different beers from the Brooklyn Brewery.

A fusion of Asian, European, and traditional Continental cooking styles were brought together to create fan favorites such as: scallop escabeche, smoked pork rilette, cedar roasted salmon, grilled duck breast, hot and sour soup, and bread pudding for dessert.

Meanwhile, the beer ranged from the unique dry and spicy Saison to robust IPA'S and Browns, finishing with the heady Monster Barley Wine, and Brooklyn's World famous Chocolate Stout.

Garrett Oliver was on hand for the entire evening to mingle with guests, answer questions and sign copies of his best selling book "The Brewmaster's Table". In between courses Garrett Oliver also proved a dynamic speaker by holding the guests' attention with stories of brewing and descriptions of his beer.

To paraphrase Andy Klubock: While beer dinners require a tremendous amount of time and energy, they allow (...continued on page 2)

the customer to really see the restaurant in a different light. Also, the staff has the opportunity to execute a gourmet meal, paired with world class beers. But, just as important, it presents a rare chance for management at all three stores to bond and work together to deliver a truly unique customer experience.

In the end, I think everyone had plenty of food and drink, and probably got to meet some really nice people from the other stores. Garrett Oliver finished the night on an appropriate note by reminding all of us that we need to periodically "slow life down" and truly savor a great meal or a great drink. He further added that some the best times of our lives will those spent around a table, surrounded by friends and family.

Beer Spotlight

SweetWater Exodus Porter

This is a classic American Porter, poured on tap it has a good head that stays and leaves a nice lace. It is defined by chocolate malt, medium body, and smooth mouth feel. Balanced by Golding and Columbus hops on the finish is a hint of bitterness. Don't be afraid of the dark.

Spotlight on Food

Baked Grouper

We bake a fresh fillet of grouper in a spicy chipotle butter sauce on one of our fajita skillets. We pour a cheesy creamy sauce on top of the grouper and serve it with a side of sesame broccoli and brown rice. A fast favorite of mine!

Did you know?

During World War II, reduction of consumption activists argued that soldiers should not be permitted to drink alcohol beverages. However, General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff of the U.S. Army, insisted that such prohibition would be 'harmful to the men in the service.'

The consumption of alcohol was so widespread throughout history that it has been called "a universal language."

Vassar College was established and funded by a brewer.
