Where in the World Are YOU????

In regards to your contest; who could produce a photo showing Summits gear in it, the furthest distance from ATL.....here I am in China with my treasured Summit's hat (Thanks Chris!). I was at Mission Hills, the worlds largest golf complex, 10 courses / 180 holes which is located in Shenzhen, China. I was there on business so naturally, I took the cap!

Beer-wise, all that was available was Carlsburg and Tsing Tao, and we consumed more than our share, including some very nice Junmai-Ginjo style sakes. The weird thing was that every different city we visited had their Tsing Tao beer in a different style bottle with a different label and a different taste. Hmmm?

I don't know the exact linear distance, but the the round trip was worth 21,564 frequent flyer miles!

Prosit!

Ron Lutz

Thomas Hooker AMERICAN PALE ALE

Thomas Hooker American Pale Ale is an extremely vivid, medium-bodied brew. Hooker Pale Ale stresses the crisp bitterness, lingering resin flavor, and aroma of American hops which are characteristic of the most distinctive West Coast Ales. The caramel sweetness of the malt balances the chock-full-of-hops flavor to yield a complex but quite refreshing brew. CHEERS!

The American Pale Ale won 3rd Place in the Great International Beer Festival for the American Pale Ale category. The GIBF is held annually in Providence, Rhode Island.

Cooking With Beer

Tomato Curry Chicken

"Chicken breasts baked with a tomato, beer and curry sauce. Easy preparation with a gourmet touch and taste; my family loves it. Serve with new red potatoes and drizzle sauce over the potatoes, if desired."

Original recipe yield: 4 servings.

Prep Time: 15 Minutes

Cook Time: 1 Hour

Ready In: 1 Hour 15 Minutes

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 skinless, boneless chicken breast halves
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 onion, chopped
- 2/3 cup beer
- 1 (10.75 ounce) can condensed tomato soup
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

DIRECTIONS:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C).

Place chicken in a 9x13 inch baking dish. Melt butter in a medium skillet over medium heat. Saute onion, then stir in beer, soup, curry powder, basil and pepper. Reduce heat to low and simmer for about 10 minutes, then pour over chicken.

Bake at 350 degrees F (175 degrees C) for 1 hour; sprinkle with cheese for last 10 minutes of baking.

Did You Know?

Attila the Hun was suspected of suffocating from a bloody nose after passing out from alcohol at his 'bachelor party'.

Reno, Nevada has the highest rate of alcoholism in the U.S., Provo, Utah, the lowest. Now there's a big surprise all round!

The worlds strongest beer is 'Samuel Adams' Triple Bock, which has reached 17% alcohol by volume. To obtain this level, however, they had to use a champagne yeast.

The term 'toddlers' originated in England. There were impurities in the drinking water that disallowed the water to be used for drinking. A common alternative drink was beer (it was cheep, plentiful and the water used to make it was treated during the initial boiling during brewing). Toddlers, just weaning off of mothers milk were unaccustomed to the effects of beer. This coupled with the fact that they were just learning how to walk really made them toddle.
