House Party = Rent Money!

Chris Baugh - Snellville Manager

College was a very interesting time for me. My friends and I were broke all the time. Being sans money was not a complete negative situation because I found creative and fun ways to improve my predicament. My friends and I had many crazy ideas and money making plans, most of which failed. However, a house party featuring America's favorite beverage, beer, was one idea that was a sure moneymaker every time.

I had a connection with a local brewery (who will remain nameless) that would supply us with unfiltered versions of their product, for a small fee. So, my friends and I would pool our money together and pick up a keg or two. After the refreshments were secured for the party we would then litter several local campuses with flyers, and wait for the hordes of people to come. Since I would DJ at the party, I would meet a lot of interesting and fun people. Most of the time there were no problems - to get in the house was free, to get a cup for beer was a small charge. We almost always made four to five times the investment, and had a great time doing it. So cheers to draft beer for helping my friends and I pay rent!

Editor's Note: Each week, we'll bring you a column featuring a thought, story, or even prose by your favorite people at Summits! And don't forget, you too can be published! Contact snellville@summitsonline.com for details!

Beer Spotlight

Petes Wicked Ale

Pete's Wicked Ale is an experience out of the ordinary. Our tantalizing ruby-brown ale with distinctive malts and aromatic Brewers Gold hops is sure to stir up an urge to get loose.

BODY: Medium

TASTE: Surprisingly smooth. The initial malt sweetness is balanced with the hop, dispelling the myth that all dark beers are bitter.

Beer Geek

Frosty Frog

A strong, but well balanced winter warmer, this ale has extreme complexity made for a holiday feast. The addition of Raisins and Molasses in the brewing process produces unusual spiced rum like flavors to go along with the well balanced malt and hops.

No Chemicals, Additives or Preservatives.

Measurements: 20 degrees plato, 65 IBUs, 9% ABV

Rogue 15th. Join us Saturday, April 15th for a special Rogue Brew. We will be serving this beer all day Saturday, the 15th ,(only!) until it runs out!

There is a $2.00 registration fee, but 100% of that is donated to Habitat for Humanity. Isn't that reason enough to join? The Passport Club works like this:

1. Tell your server you'd like to join the Passport Club.
2. Your server will bring you a form to fill out and your own personal beer list. The beer list stays at Summits for your convenience.
3. Fork over the two bucks and order a draft.

That's it! Your server will provide your own draft menu on which we'll keep a record of your beer journey. Each time you stop in, just ask for your passport list.

Already got your mug? Try for Passport Club Tier II! This time you get to tour our bottled beers.

Cooking With Beer

Beer Pancakes

dry stuff

- 1/4 cp oat flour
- 1/4 cp graham flour (a coarsely ground whole wheat flour used for making graham crackers)
- 1/2 cp whole wheat pastry flour (1 cp total) -or- 1 cp whole wheat pastry flour
- 1/2 tsp baking powder (use 3/4 tsp of the non-alum kind)
- 1/2 tsp baking soda
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 1 heaping tbl dry malt extract
- 1 heaping tbl health-food store brewer's yeast optional:
- 1 tbl sesame seeds

wet stuff

- 1 cp bland, boring, light beer, easy on the hops (unless you want to eat the whole batch yourself)
- 1 1/2 tsp lemon juice (1 good squeeze of 1/2 a lemon)
- 1/2 stick butter/margarine

Set margarine in the frying pan to melt. Mix dry ingredients in one bowl, wet in another. Add the melted butter to the wet and mix well just before stirring in dry stuff. If you want skinnier pancakes, thin batter with beer.

Serves two. You might want to make a double batch, as this leaves 1/2 a can of bad beer sitting around, and I for one don't drink before breakfast, and if I did, I wouldn't drink this stuff.

If the beer isn't flat, you can reduce the baking powder and soda. The lemon juice is just to react with the soda, so that can go away too. If you use fresh beer, the above makes very light and fluffy pancakes.

Did You Know?

Frederick the Great of Prussia tried to ban the consumption of coffee and demanded that the populace drink alcohol instead. President Lincoln, when informed that General Grant drank whiskey while leading his troops, reportedly replied "Find out the name of the brand so I can give it to my other generals."

Being intoxicated had desirable spiritual significance to the ancient Egyptians. They often gave their children names like "How Drunk is Cheops" or "How Intoxicated is Hathor."
