Beer Geek

In Babylon over 4000 years ago, it was customary for the bride's father to supply his new son-in-law with all the mead he could drink. As mead is a honey beer and their calendar was lunar based, this period was called the 'honey month' – or what we know today as the 'honeymoon'. In fact, Babylonians believed if the groom drank mead for an entire month, it enhanced the chances of his wife bearing a male heir.

After consuming buckets of aul (or ale), the Vikings would head fearlessly into battle, often without armour or even shirts. In fact, "berserk" means "bare shirt" in Norse, and eventually took on the meaning of their wild battles.

Cooking With Beer!

Apple Fritters

<http://www.beercook.com/articles/beerbatterfritters.htm>

Ingredients:

- 12 ounces amber ale
- 1 1/2 cups white all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- 1/4 cup peanut oil
- 1/4 cup grapeseed oil
- 2 cups canola oil
- 8 large apples, peeled, cored and cut into 1/3-inch thick rings (Granny Smith, Macoun and Rome Beauty will hold their shape)
- Platter lined with 2 layers of paper towel or clean brown paper
- Powdered sugar and ground cinnamon

Directions

1. In a large bowl, whisk together ale, flours, sugar, vanilla and melted butter. Set aside. Prepare apples by peeling, coring and slicing into thick rings.
2. Blend the oils. Pour oil to a depth of 2 inches into a deep Dutch oven, or deep, large cast-iron frying pan. Place pan over medium-high heat and bring to 360°F.
3. Blot apple rings on paper towel, then dip in batter to coat evenly. Dip and fry apple rings in small batches. Turn once to cook evenly. Skim oil and add more as needed, being sure to bring to 350°F after each addition.

4. Remove fritters from oil and drain 2-3 minutes on platter lined with paper. Dust with ground cinnamon and powdered sugar and serve warm.

Safety tip: Keep a large baking sheet and a fire extinguisher nearby. Use the baking sheet to smother a small fire and the fire extinguisher if needed. For safety's sake, don't drink and fry at the same time - savor your beer after the frying is finished.

Condors: perfect for last minute gifts!

This Week in History - 10/5

Oct 5th On this day in 1947, President Harry Truman (1884-1972) makes the first-ever televised presidential address from the White House, asking Americans to cut back on their use of grain in order to help starving Europeans.

Oct 6th On this day in 1866, the Reno gang carries out the first robbery of a moving train in the U.S., making off with over $10,000 from an Ohio & Mississippi train in Jackson County, Indiana. Prior to this innovation in crime, holdups had taken place only on trains sitting at stations or freight yards.

Oct 8th On this day in 1871, flames spark in the Chicago barn of Patrick and Catherine O'Leary, igniting a 2-day blaze that kills between 200 and 300 people, destroys 17,450 buildings, leaves 100,000 homeless and causes an estimated $200 million (in 1871 dollars; $3 billion in 2007 dollars) in damages.

Oct 11th On this day in 2002, former President Jimmy Carter wins the Nobel Peace Prize "for his decades of untiring effort to find peaceful solutions to international conflicts, to advance democracy and human rights, and to promote economic and social development."

Carter, a peanut farmer from Georgia, served one term as U.S. president between 1977 and 1981. One of his key achievements as president was mediating the peace talks between Israel and Egypt in 1978. The Nobel Committee had wanted to give Carter (1924- ) the prize that year for his efforts, along with Anwar Sadat and Menachim Begin, but was prevented from doing so by a technicality--he had not been nominated by the official deadline.
